

Important Info about the Energy Credit!

Serving your world of financial needs!

As you all know, there has been quite a lot of information about the residential energy credit this year. The credit has been expanded and covers a wide variety of improvements. Many of our clients have made improvements and are unsure as to whether their improvements qualify for the credit or not. Quite honestly, it is impossible for us to track down the manufacturer of each window, door, heating system or other manufacturer to determine if a component qualifies. The cost of such research would be huge! Therefore, we are requesting you to do some of the leg work for us. Please see the links below which may be helpful.

Please keep in mind that tracking down individual components, window types and other pertinent information in order to determine if your improvements qualify for the Energy Credit takes considerable time. We recommend that you contact the vendor or installer who made the improvement for you. They should be able to provide you with serial numbers, model numbers and other proof of qualification. The time and effort for us to track this information down is prohibitive and would greatly reduce the advantage you receive from the credit. Additionally, you may be able to go to the website of the manufacturer and get proof of qualification there.
